

Workplace Law

Litigation, complex & mass litigation

In our Employment Litigation practice group, we bring together the expertise gathered by our litigation attorneys in thousands of court cases across all instances. Strong negotiation skills, outstanding rhetorical and analytical abilities, a passion for conducting litigation and the masterful handling of all lawsuit situations make us a strong partner and a highly regarded calling card before all German labor courts. We understand the pitfalls of procedural law and the typical opponent's conduct in the proceedings, so we work with you to align our tactics accordingly.

We are just as familiar with disputes of all kinds under works constitution law and relating to collective bargaining agreements, e.g. with regard to personnel-based and social co-determination, classification under collective bargaining agreements, etc., as we are with all proceedings under individual law, including complex liability lawsuits between companies and their legal representatives. We have particular expertise in advising on dismissal protection mass proceedings in the context of major restructuring measures. In this respect, we also relieve your administrative burden through our proactive litigation management. Constant knowledge transfer through our litigation school and particular experience in appeal and evidence law ensure your success across all instances.

Specifically, we focus on:

- Court proceedings across all instances
- Disputes of any kind under works constitution law and relating to collective bargaining agreements
- Proceedings under individual law
- Dismissal protection mass proceedings
- Particular experience in appeal and evidence law