Workplace Law

Focus on: Practice Groups

Within the 360° employment law range, special expertise/know how has crystallized in recent years and we have decided to bundle it in Practice Groups. This allows us to better structure our know how, to increase our efficiency and productivity and optimize our advisory service for our clients. Our Practice Groups work together across locations. One Team – One Source of Knowledge.

Company pension schemes

The company pension scheme often leads a kind of shadowy existence – in particular in medium-sized companies. However, it should be taken seriously and may even, in certain situations, turn out to be a “decisive factor for the outcome of war” and a “deal breaker”. Our experts are happy to advise you on the entire range of the company pension scheme, such as:

- Reason, interpretation, amendment and termination of pension entitlements
- Extrajudicial and judicial representation
- Counselling in company pension matters in the field of M&A transactions/restructurings
- De-risking
- Pension entitlements of managing directors, board members, shareholders and further executive employees

Data & Privacy

Digitalization is affecting almost all areas in the world of work. This creates large amounts of data. The processing of data from customers as well as employees offers great opportunities but can also involve legal risks at the same time.

Our experts see the tasks involved as a challenge and an opportunity to find solution together with you that make comprehensive data processing possible in accordance with applicable law. We are happy to support you in implementing processes compliant with data privacy as well as in adhering to compliance requirements.

HR Compliance

Our competences and experience from many years of advising numerous clients on the implementation of an effective compliance structure as well as on measures to prevent and deal with compliance cases are bundled in our HR Compliance and Occupational Health and Safety Practice Group. Our Practice Group combines our competences in the areas of

- Core Compliance
- Deployment of third-party personnel
- Occupational health and safety

We offer you comprehensive, practice-oriented advice in these areas to classify and effectively minimize any legal risk.

Legal Tech

Innovation is an integral part of our firm's culture – for us, this includes linking our legal advice with future-oriented technology. With the help of Legal Tech, we standardize complex and time-consuming processes, facilitate difficult decisions and find creative solutions for our clients. Our overall goal is to improve the efficiency and quality of daily and routine processes, in particular when dealing with large restructuring mandates.

We already developed numerous tools which can be used in complex restructuring projects, in compliance cases, when defending wrongful dismissal claims and in many other scenarios under employment law. For further information, please refer to <https://pwwl-workplace-tech.de>.

M&A

Our Mergers & Acquisitions (M&A) Practice Group advises on all employment and pension law aspects of national and international M&A projects. We provide support in all areas of M&A transactions relevant under employment law, from structuring and drafting of all transfer documents under employment law – if applicable coordinating the entire international employment law/pensions workstreams – to implementing any restructuring or integration measures before or after closing.

We have many years of experience in major international law firms. Therefore we are familiar with the specifics of PE transactions and have already successfully handled a large number of partially highly complex M&A projects and were able to demonstrate our know-how in a large number of partially highly complex M&A transactions.

Co-determination Management

Our Practice Group Co-Determination Management specializes in dealing with all legal, strategic as well as tactical issues in the area of operational and corporate co-determination. We offer you consulting services based on a 4-pillar approach. This comprises practical knowledge acquired 1.) in management and politics, 2.) in the works council, 3.) in mediation, 4.) in HR management and it is based on the many years of experience of our consultants in various positions and areas.

We have mastered the entire range of co-determination management, from forceful confrontation to balancing cooperation. We see ourselves not only as your legal advisors, but as assertive companions of your individual project.

Restructuring

The Restructuring Practice Group advises companies on the employment law planning and implementation of restructuring projects.

We support employers from the strategic planning of all structuring options of a restructuring to the entrepreneurial decision-making and implementation in negotiations with works councils and trade unions. In doing so, we work together with our Legal Tech Practice Group on the continuous optimisation and standardisation of processes. With the help of our Restructuring Suite for limiting the social plan budget, optimising the social selection and permanent presentation of the financial effects of the envisaged labour law measures, we have already successfully accompanied numerous restructuring projects and helped our clients to find legally secure, fair and socially acceptable solutions and to conduct negotiations in a rational and evidence-based manner.

We are constantly cooperating with a network of business consultants and interim personnel managers to provide you optimal support and accompany you in the planning and implementation phase.

Start-ups

We understand start-ups because we have established and worked in and with many start-ups ourselves and not least because we used to be one ourselves. We know about bold and hopeful beginnings, we know about success as well as the odd setback and, above all, about the challenges that come with growth. We are driven by innovation, something we have in common with our clients. We enjoy accompanying them on this path- from the early stage to profitability.

Our experts accompanied many successful start-ups and advise them on all operative and strategic questions from the Pre-Seed Stage to the Unicorn or Exit.
